

The RSB serves biologists, members and Member Organisations through the provision of registers, CPD, guidance and training opportunities.

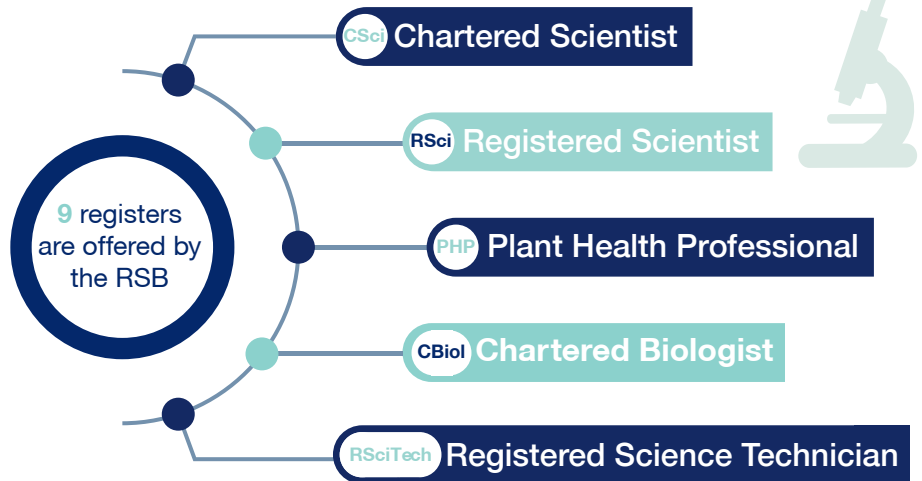

Our suite of professional development opportunities ensure that members can expand their skills, have their progression recognised, and be supported by the RSB at all stages of their career.

Professional Registers

60%

Increase in the number of professional registers since 2009

The RSB offers a number of professional registers, including:

Training

We offer online and in-person training courses for members, covering topics from lab management to media engagement

2014

First training course launched

2019

Launched Industry Skills Certificate training scheme

18

Face to face training courses available

Continuing Professional Development

We recognise any activity our members take part in that improves their professional practice and development

2012

Launch of the online CPD scheme for RSB members

Members can log their CPD activity and record their progress

CPD points help members meet their next professional registration milestone

Careers

We offer resources and advice on career options, further study, work experience and studentships

Our Careers Committee, in partnership with our Member Organisations, provide careers support

We run an annual Bioscience Careers Day for students and graduates:

396

Attendees to the 2016 Bioscience Careers Day

448

Attendees to the 2017 Bioscience Careers Day

310

Attendees to the 2018 Bioscience Careers Day

To find out more about our professional registers and CPD: cpd@rsb.org.uk
rsb.org.uk/registers

To explore our training courses or visit our online training portal:
rsb.org.uk/training
training@rsb.org.uk